

Unlock Your True Golf Potential: On-Course Group Lessons with Ryan Brinza, PGA

Are you ready to stop practicing and start playing better golf? If you're serious about lowering your scores and having more fun on the course, it's time to experience golf instruction in its most authentic setting: on the course.

Imagine this: you're playing 9 holes in a friendly foursome alongside fellow golfers and me, your PGA Professional. This isn't your typical range lesson. This is where your game truly comes to life, where I can see everything – the good shots, the challenges, and everything in between.

Here's what you'll gain:

- Real-World Learning: Learn from actual golf situations with me providing instant feedback and guidance. No more guessing how your range swing translates to the course.
- Strategic Mastery: Master course management and shot selection, learning to make smarter decisions that directly translate to lower scores.
- Mental Toughness: Learn proven techniques to manage tension and pressure, turning those frustrating moments into opportunities for growth.
- Personalized Game Plan: Receive a clearly defined, written plan tailored to your specific needs, ensuring you achieve your golfing goals.
- Comprehensive Game Analysis: I'll observe every aspect of your game, from your swing to your decision-making, giving you a complete understanding of your strengths and weaknesses.
- More Time, More Value: Enjoy 2.5 hours of focused instruction and a better understanding of your game, all at the same price as a 1-hour lesson plus a 9-hole greens fee.*
- Community and Accountability: Join a supportive group of fellow golfers, creating a built-in practice and playing group that holds you accountable and pushes you to improve.
- Faster Improvement: Group dynamics create a motivating environment, helping you push yourself further and accelerate your progress.
- Independence: Learn to make your own decisions on the course, and to become independent from your coach.

Would you participate in an on-course playing lesson in a foursome? Spaces are limited for these on-course group lessons. Reserve your spot and start playing your best golf!

Minimum 2 players per group. If the minimum number of participants is not met, the coach may cancel the session and offer to transfer your registration into another session.

Pay greens fees to the golf course upon arrival for your tee time. Any riding cart fee would be paid to the golf course upon arrival as well.*
